

6516209437.txt

The NAB has no right to tell satellite radio subscribers what they can listen to. Those of us whom pay for such a service, have a right to keep or get rid of what we see fit. We subscribe to satellite radio, and therefore we, their customers, are their "watch dogs"; not the FCC or any other such organization.